

Identity Theft Protection & Assistance

Information to Protect Against and Guidance to Resolve Identity Theft

The Identity Theft Problem

While the means to detect and prevent identity theft continue to evolve, the crime continues to affect Americans with 14.4 million adults becoming a victim of some form of identity theft in 2018, down from a record high of 16.7 million in 2017, in 2019, identity theft remained the number one complaint in the FTC's Consumer Sentinel Network, at a record 48%. As criminals continue to search for new ways to commit the crime, with social networks and healthcare records becoming growing areas to exploit, identity theft is an ever-increasing problem.
